

Industrial Tablet PC used by Engineering Consultants

With over 50 years of experience working with Government at the municipal, provincial and federal level, Dessau brings a solid bilingual and charismatic approach to meeting Canada's security and defence requirements in major areas consisting of construction, environmental, urban development and telecommunications with a host of others still in the pipelines.

within the projects for defence and security Dessau's extensive experience and dual operational tactics for national and international assignments gives Dessau an edge against various competitors within and outside of Canada.

The fifth-largest engineering consulting firm in Canada rises to the challenge of integrating technology into the core of companies, institutions and public services. Moving forward with technology, Dessau requires multi-tasking, windows based Industrial Tablet PC for upcoming projects that meet the highest specifications.

The Industrial computers will be used to provide support with many sectors of business within the company and its systems and technology group. The unique combination of the Quadpad V12's features have proven key to secure and meet the requirements of being a Windows based, user friendly Industrial Tablet PC.

Quaduro Systems has created a platform which makes it possible for Dessau to carry out complex projects by minimizing the uncertainty that is often linked with using consumer based products by creating a solution with the combination of an Industrial Computer.

About Dessau

Founded in 1957, Dessau is an engineering consulting firm, which has been well recognized as a national and international leader in its industry. Headquartered in Canada, the firm currently has 4,700 employees operating from regional offices. Dedicated to contributing its global services to all clients, Dessau has developed state-of-the-art expertise in numerous fields of activity related to engineering and construction

About Quaduro Systems

Quaduro Systems have become a leader and world recognized supplier of industrial tablet PC's globally. Quaduro Systems specializes on mobile computing devices that can be used in any field of choice. We offer a full range of accessories ranging from docking stations, to power banks and external devices such as a mouse, keypad or a DVD drive. For more information visit www.quaduro.com